Am waiting for the family to arrive from dinner at the Tokyo Restaurant, a cute little affair but on the good Japanese food. I was proceeding there at 10:00 PM when the radio said they were already bringing Imee Trinio who is apparently giving the party for the children — at Forbes Park. So I returned to the palace.

Ambassador de la Rosa arrived before the Foreign Policy Council meeting that the US-South Vietnamese forces have captured a town which removes the threat against Phnom Penh.

Foreign Policy Council at my suggestion and upon the recommendation of the Executive Committee of the National Security Council unanimously agreed:

1. To send a delegation headed by Sec. Romulo to the Djakarta conference, with the chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House and Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate as members a membership which offered to the Liberal Party if they want it and Col. Fidel Ramos of the NP as Sec. Romulo's staff.

2. That no military aid be given to the Lon Nol government which has requested arms and equipment

3. That humanitarian aid be considered people to people not through the Cambodian government after the Djakarta conference

4. That another meeting be called by me after the Djakarta conference

5. That we support the sending by the Djakarta conference of an observation team of Cambodia to submit a report to the conference on the UN Security Conference of Asian Nations.

6. That we support the position that Cambodia be kept and maintain its neutrality.

7. That these guiding principles apply equally to Laos.
